Be Prepared

Certainly if this year is a big year for Texas, it will be a big year for the A. O. A. and likewise a big year for the Osteopathic profession as a whole. We are inclined to gauge our progress by the number of our Association memberships. Reinforcing this is the attendance and success of our annual convention, the "highlight" of the year. At the convention, our profession's business is transacted. Legislative affairs within and without the association confines, and professional problems of technical nature engage the attention. Recreation and entertainment are also on the convention menu.

Texas, as the host state, and Dallas, the chosen city, have the privilege of focussing the profession's attention on the forthcoming convention. The local executive committee, with the aid of the entire convention committee, is busy with plans necessary for successfully entertaining the profession. Constant, wise and official counsel is secured from the Central office.

Reinforcing this is a carefully compiled record of several preceding committees in the form of manuals, giving in detail the procedure of each group. The present facilities committee is rapidly concluding the allocation of space, compiling a record of necessary equipment; getting its work so systematized that satisfactory operation is assured.

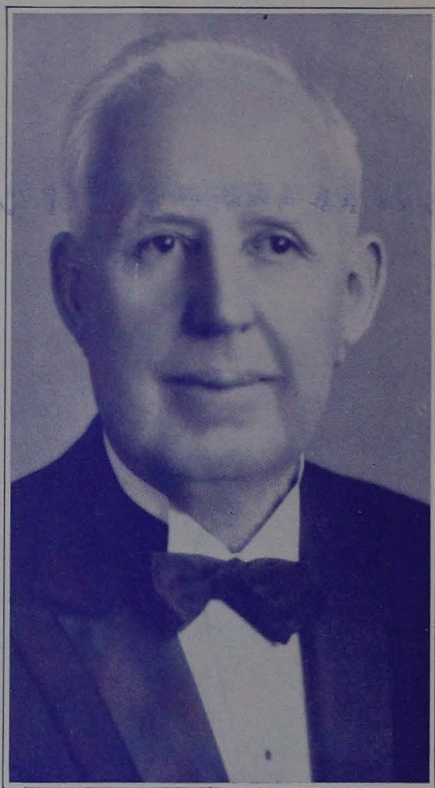

Banquets and luncheons are being planned in keeping with specified requirements. All requests are given prompt attention.

Information and transportation data is ready for serving; all inquiries will be quickly and cheerfully answered.

The public relations committee is resolved that everyone shall hear about, become interested in, decide to, and attend the 1939 A.O.A. Convention.

The finance committee is holding to the old saying, "any business worth doing is worth doing right." All bills must show why and by whom contracted, and must be paid.

The allied societies committee is having good response from the officials of Arthur Grant Hildreth, D.O., Marion, Missouri, who has missed only one A. O. A. Convention, says, "Let us all go to Dallas in June. In organization there is strength and by attending our national conventions we will gain enthusiasm and knowledge truly worthwhile."

Dr. Hildreth has recently completed a book, "The Lengthening Shadow of Dr. Andrew Taylor Still," a copy of which should be owned by every member of the osteopathic profession.

the various societies, and arrangements are rapidly being made to meet the specified requirements.

Working on the theory that frivolity, fun, and play are good antidotes for hard and serious work, the entertainment committee is determined that there shall be a "good time" awaiting everyone.

So let's be prepared to meet and greet everyone, and make them feel at home!

(Signed)

LOUIS H. LOGAN, D.O.
Convention Committee Chairman.

Dallas Convention Committee

Dear Doctors:

I have read copies of your letters, and have gotten pleasure out of going over the publicity you are giving the convention in Texas and over the country generally.

"SIXTEEN HUNDRED AND ONE" is a good slogan and you can reach that goal if you can get the WORD out to the boys and girls often enough to impress them with the importance of this grand gathering of our profession that will be held in Dallas this JUNE.

I attended the meeting of the Executive Committee in Chicago and, frankly, I do not remember any discussion of the probable attendance at the Dallas Convention, but you must remember that the leaders in every organization look at convention attendance seriously and whatever discussion takes place is only with the idea of lifting it to a higher level. Also, we, living in the south, know that the weather is just as comfortable down here in the summer as it is in most of the northern cities but the folks who live in the north do not believe that; they think because it is as hot as one "H" in the north that it must be as hot as two of them in the south. I have attended conventions in the following cities (Osteopathic and Rotary), Atlanta, Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Minneapolis, New York, Atlantic City, Kirksville, Cleveland and Dallas. All of them have been hot at times; it gets hot everywhere in the summer-time, but Dallas was as comfortable as any of them.

I wish we could have the entire profession in Dallas for five days and if the gods were kind, the folks would want to meet there every year.

Another thing I think will enter into the decision of the individual osteopath to come to Dallas is Habit. They are accustomed to going to northern cities; they know little about the south and they are afraid to strike out and learn to love a new city.

But Dallas is different from the cities where we have been meeting. Tell them about the things that go to make up this difference. I know they will like

Texas and Dallas when they once get into the spirit of the city and the state. Most of them will want to stay in Dallas.

FRANK F. JONES,
President Elect of American Osteopathic Assn.

From the January, 1939, issue of "The Journal of Osteopathy"; "IT LOOKS GOOD"

"Last summer, without warning, the Texans arrived in Cincinnati clamoring for the 1939 A. O. A. convention. Usually an inviting state starts their build-up two or three years in advance. But the Texans just came in and went to work. They entertained the convention, put out tall Texas stories, button-holed delegates, and came out with the convention. The regular convention goers were well impressed with their ability to get things done.

Now comes word that to enthuse every Texan about the convention, a publication, "The Texas Osteopathic Round-Up", is being sent quarterly to every osteopathic physician in Texas. A copy was recently sent to the Journal.

Certainly, the prospects for a fine 1939 convention in Dallas look good."

The entertainment committee for the A. O. A. Convention has practically finished their plans. You will learn by future reports that the associate chairmen will make you have such a good time in Dallas that you cannot afford to miss the convention.

We hope you can be here on Sunday. We will have an open meeting with three inspirational speakers and some splendid music. It will also be an opportune time to see the Scientific Exhibit and get acquainted.

On Wednesday night the Alumni groups will have their dinners. Dr. R. R. Norwood is chairman for the evening. The Kirksville and Des Moines group are doing a splendid work. It seems to me that our schools need an active Alumni as never before. Dr. Norwood hopes to interest all our colleges in a dinner for their Alumni so they can perfect an active organization.

DR. MARY G. BEDWELL,
Chairman of Entertainment.

DR. CLAUDE E. LOGAN, Editor

Dr. Logan and his efficient secretary, Miss Ester Weaver, deserve a lot of credit for the time and energy they have expended in publishing the ROUND-UP.—S. L. S.—H. L. B.

East Texas to Throw a Party

Following a custom inaugurated some years ago, the East Texas District has its plans laid to hold a combined professional and social event to which all osteopathic physicians and their wives are invited from the entire State of Texas and adjoining parts of Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Louisiana. Invitations will be in the mail shortly to all names appearing in the A. O. A. Directory within this territory, and should your name not appear in the list, this is your personal invitation to come at any time and bring your lady.

Tyler is to be host city, with all members of the District serving as hosts. Beginning at 10 a.m. on February 25th,

In the early evening, a banquet will be held at Willowbrook Country Club, following which the party will move on to the Mayfair Club for dancing. Tea for the ladies will be held in the afternoon.

All D.O.'s and ladies are invited and the hosts promise each one a good time.

(Signed) DR. HOWARD COATS
Pres.-elect Texas Assn.

Dr. Ray G. Hulburt, Editor
American Osteopathic Association
Chicago, Illinois.

Dear Doctor Hulburt:

If you read the Texas papers you know that Collin and I have just returned from a trip to Dallas, but just in case you do not read the Texas papers, I am sending you by "express" clippings therefrom. Dr. Sam Scothorn is a real publicity chairman. The folks in Dallas started their welcome before we reached their city. When we went in to breakfast, down about Terrell, Texas, I picked up the newspaper lying there and Collin's picture gazed back at me. You will note the very good article which accompanied it.

Now, Doctor, will you believe me when I say that we were met at the station in Dallas by Dr. Louis Logan, two brass bands, one fire engine and several thousand people? I was so astounded I could scarcely speak. Of course, it was only incidental that the Gaels from St. Marys, California, arrived at the same time to play football in the Cotton Bowl. We didn't at all mind sharing our welcome with them.

I must tell you what happened when I reached my room. Collin was detained in the lobby and two bell boys took my baggage up, unloaded it and stood by with military bearing—even after they had been tipped. Feeling slightly embarrassed because I feared my tip was too small (I am Scotch, you know) I began to fumble for another coin but—I was wrong again. When I started to place my gloves on the table they were courteously but firmly taken from me and carefully put away. Next they took my hat, my heavy coat, my top coat and my jacket and THEN, Doctor Hurlburt, I stopped 'em. I just didn't know where that business might wind up. Feeling slightly dizzy from having such attention I reeled towards a chair but the phone rang and I was told that we were expected at a luncheon to be given for us at the Adolphus Hotel.

Nearly every one in Dallas was there and more cordial and enthusiastic people are hard to find. There is a glamour about Dallas, Texas, that beggars description.

After lunch we made a pilgrimage beginning on the top floor of the Adolphus and ending at the front door. Mrs. R. E. Morgan, president of the Dallas Osteopathic Auxiliary was with us also and she told me of some wonderful plans and a grand surprise she has in store for the ladies during the convention. Then we covered the Baker Hotel. Of course, I am too excited to tell you about Dr. Morgan's systematic and efficient record of facilities.

We finished the hotels just in time to dress for the banquet given by the Dallas Association at the Adolphus. Just when I thought they had done everything for us they could think of—comes Dr. Mary Lou Logan with a beautiful corsage.

This song they sing: "The Eyes of Texas are Upon You" is in reality a warning. They have the most complete spy system in the country and it was in top form. I was sneaking up the stairs, after having walked miles through the hotels, because I didn't want them to know that those three inch heels had just about crippled me, but I had no more than reached my room when five osteopathic physicians dashed in to treat my feet. Dr. Kelley won?—by a foot.

If Texas extends such hospitality to us, what will they do for those honored guests who are fortunate enough to attend the National Convention in Dallas next June.

lib Trust Drs. Phil Russell and Sam Sparks to know where to go to eat. The best food I have eaten in ten years was served us at "The Golden Pheasant," a small, exclusive, well appointed restaurant less than a block from the Adolphus and Baker Hotels.

The highlight of the trip, to me, was at the banquet when Dr. Mary Bedwell produced out of thin air a white, ten gallon hat and presented it to me. I was so excited that when they asked me to make a speech I tried to do it in spite of the fact that I was overwhelmed by the honor of sitting beside Dr. and Mrs. Holloway. Then the hat was taken from my head and passed along the table. Each person put his hand in his pocket and then into the hat!!! I hastily grabbed a mirror and looked to see if I really looked so forlorn that these mammoth hearted people were taking up a collection for me—but when the hat came back, everyone had autographed it. You will know me in Dallas by the ten gallon hat on my head—not lillies in my hand (with apologies to Dr. Allen). And so, Doctor Hulburt, if this letter sounds slightly loco, you will know it is because

TEXAS HAS GONE TO MY HEAD.

I'm Going Back

DOROTHY BROOKE

State Meeting

Dr. Lloyd N. McAnally, Fort Worth, Program Chairman for the State Assn. which will hold its meeting in Fort Worth, April 7-8-9, at the Texas Hotel, says that the program will be just like "home cooking . . . with country fried steak on the menu." After all, many of our sandlot boys are up in the majors and many of our girls in home talent plays land smack in the center of Hollywood.

"Soon to Become a Has-been"

This is the home stretch of our Peppy Prexy, Dr. Chester L. Farquharson, who will attend the East Texas District meeting at Tyler, February 25; the Southeast Texas District in Houston, March 4; the Panhandle District meeting, Lockney, March 11; the Central Texas District meeting, Austin, March 18; the Rio Grande Valley District meeting, Harlingen, March 25; and the Fort Worth—State Osteopathic Association meeting, April 7-8-9 (where he becomes a has-been.) While President-elect, he attended many district meetings. A thousand mile trip to Marfa in an automobile all by himself to demonstrate ten-fingered osteopathy should prove how true osteopathy was instilled into him by his dear mother, who has practiced for many years. Future aspirants for the office of President-elect should take heed, because the President of the Texas Osteopathic Association has a big responsibility and an obligation to live up to.

A Membership Bargain

You are coming to the convention this year. Why not pay your A.O.A. dues now, which gives you membership privileges for fifteen months, starting March 1, 1939. This will include your dues for the next A.O.A. Convention, to be held in Dallas, Texas, June 26-30, 1939. This will help not only the A. O. A., but the Texas Association and YOU.

ROBERT E. MORGAN, D.O.,
Membership Chairman.

Recent Graduates Urged to Attend 1939 A.O.A. Convention

While in Kirksville for the graduating exercise, Dr. Arthur E. Allen, president of the American Osteopathic Association, and Dr. Collin Brooke, Chairman of the bureau of convention program of the American Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons for 1939, both urged the new graduates to become affiliated with organized Osteopathy by becoming members of local and national osteopathic associations. They urged the recent graduates to attend the national A.O.A. Convention which will be held in Dallas, Texas, June 25 to 30, 1939.

Public Relations Committee

Good-Will Work the Same Asset Everywhere

The President, a Chicago man, at the National Flower Show, which opened in Houston, February 12, in his opening address, said, "This is the first time in the history of our organization to ever meet in the extreme Southland. We wanted to do so, and we are glad that we are here, because it will educate more people to appreciate the beautiful, natural, and healthful things in life and at the same time, be a profit to them." He said that many of the young men and women from Houston and vicinity, who worked day and night to make the convention a success, would receive an executive training in business and develop a personality that would make them the future leaders of the city of Houston. He stated, "We have flowers on exhibit here from all parts of the world and you, who take advantage of visiting this great convention, will profit for years to come from what you learn from the people you meet here."

What he said about the National Flower Show in Houston can be said to the osteopathic profession about the A.O.A. Convention in Dallas. Can you afford to miss it?

Every osteopathic physician certainly wants to attend the National Convention in Dallas next June. Texas has an opportunity to establish a record by having the greatest attendance in proportion to Texas membership than any state has ever had at a National Convention.

From a selfish standpoint, no osteopathic physician can afford to miss the Texas convention. Your clientele would not want to send their children to a school teacher who does not attend teachers institutes. Your high school officials would not retain a football coach who does not attend coaching schools, and it is just as certain that your patients will be proud that their doctor attended his professional convention; that he takes a post graduate course and that he will return to his practice prepared to take better care of them.

Dr. Horace M. Walker, Fort Worth, after twenty-seven years as active member of his Rotary Club, was elected an honorary member. His friend and co-worker, Dr. Tom Ray, has been voted an active member of the Club. Dr. Walker's hobby is photography and a recent issue of the Fort Worth Star Telegram carried one of his pictures of a long train in the photography section. In a whisper I tell you that he was a fireman on the Fort Worth and Denver before he began practicing osteopathy in Fort Worth. Often he misses church and lies out on the right-of-way with his ear to the ground. Yes, sir! As Frank Jones says, there is a lot of good in forming "habits and hobbies."

More Good-will Created and Planned

Every one of you are members of the Public Relations Committee, because you are helping build good-will for the profession and Texas and you are writing letters to your friends and classmates urging them to attend the Texas A.O.A. Convention. So you can see that you are a member of the Public Relations Committee of the Dallas Convention Committee entertaining the National Association in Dallas next June. This is the golden opportunity for the Texas Osteopathic Association to increase their membership, which will give them more representation in the House of Delegates during the Dallas Convention. If the spring issue of the TEXAS OSTEOPATHIC ROUND-UP can publish a list of 200 Texans who have paid their registration in advance, it will show to the entire profession that Texas osteopaths appreciate the confidence the profession has in them by holding the American Osteopathic Convention in Texas, 1939.

Louisiana osteopathic physicians say they will have 90% of their members at the convention. If Arkansas, Oklahoma and New Mexico do as well it will be in reality a Southwest Convention.

Legislative Committee

The Legislative Committee of the Texas Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons has been very active this fall.

1st—Conferences with the representatives of the State Medical Association and the State Medical Board attempting to adjust differences of opinions relative to proposed amendments to the Medical Practice Act.

2nd—Preparing a separate Bill to have ready if the occasion arises.

3rd—Organizing the State into districts with key men heading same and arranging for our interests to be properly taken care of in the Legislature.

The amendments to the Medical Practice Act were introduced into the House by Representative Thornton of Galveston on January 23rd. Your committee accepted all amendments with the exception of Article 4501, Section 3 as revised, a portion of which gives a majority of the State Board of Medical Examiners the right to classify all medical schools as "bona fide and reputable".

We advised the Executive Committee of the State Medical Association that we could not accept the above amendment and were sorry but would be forced to use all our energies to obstruct its passages.

Your Executive Committee and Board of Trustees met with the Legislative Committee in Austin on Sunday, January 15th. The following were present: Drs. Chester Farquharson, Ted Krohn, Howard Coats, Everett Wilson, Lloyd W. Davis, L. W. Giffen, Mary Bedwell, Sam Sparks, Marvin Bailey, James Tyree, Paul Peck, R. H. Peterson, J. R. Alexander, Henry Roberts, Phil Russell and Joe Love. The Board of Trustees were called in because of the financial burden falling on the Legislative account. The Trustees agreed to certain expenditures of moneys by the Legislative Committee which must be raised. While I realize it is painful to contribute hard cash for a project of this type, it is necessary, if our Association wishes to maintain the Association by new members coming into the State also for the protection of rights of those now practicing in the State. While there has been no complaint from a single member of the Legislative Committee, the burden of lost time and personal costs involved are many times the amount the Board is asking from any single individual.

I want to express at this time my sincere appreciation to all of those who have given us full support in this campaign.

(Signed)

EVERETT W. WILSON,
Legislative Committee Chairman

Hurrah for the work of the Legislative Committee; as we understand they got everything they fought for.

How many rusty friendships do you have? How vivid they once had been! A little time and effort might give them a brilliant sheen.

Now is the ideal time to pause for a minute—to stop and think about your friends, who mean so much to you, and then write them a few lines to let them know they do!

If you have neglected some of your friends so long that a feeling of remorse sweeps over you, immediately, substitute a thought of initiative, stop procrastinating because you have something big to talk about—the National Convention. Then, keep in touch with these friends, become interested in them and their work, and, before you know it, they, too, will be as enthusiastic over the convention as you are.

This is but part of the story. You will see your old friends at the convention, yes; you will make new friends. You will find a regenerated interest in O. W. N. A., a desire to contact new members, and to make a woman's organization worthy of note.

Besides this, you will have all the things that go with a big convention—they are too numerous to be mentioned here. You know what they are.

What do you say? Let's put "something" into this convention, and we'll get "something" out of the convention.

How many of you find little notes on your Christmas cards? Remember getting one like this—"Wouldn't it be nice to have a reunion some time? We never seem to attend the same convention." Boost the convention, and next year you will find notes like this—"I'll never forget the convention in Texas."

See you in Dallas!

It's Out! The "Texas Osteopathic Round-Up"

Volume I, No. 1, of the "Texas Osteopathic Round-Up", whose coming was heralded in the October issue of "The Forum", has at last come to light, a handsome 24-page magazine printed in blue on blue paper.

To be published quarterly by the Texas Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons, with an editorial staff consisting of Claude E. Logan, editor; Hugh L. Betzner, advertising and business manager; and Sam L. Scott-horn, managing editor, its purpose is given on the first page as that of "forming a better acquaintanceship, fellowship and general understanding amongst the members of the eight different districts, in order to build a bigger State and American Osteopathic Association membership."

A list of two reporters for each district and six extra reporters is also given on the first page. The magazine contains a message of congratulation from A.O.A. President Arthur E. Allen; news items regarding the coming A. O. A. convention to be held in Dallas next June; tells how the convention was secured; gives the personal news of each district, news of the O.W.N.A., of local society meetings, of P. and P. W. work, and of new osteopathic institutions throughout the state.

The magazine is well supported by the advertising of osteopathic institutions, individual doctors, and others. It promises on the whole to be a most effective medium for uniting the profession in Texas, and having been started this fall will doubtless do much toward making the profession in the state cooperate toward a successful national convention.

(From the January, 1939, issue of "The Forum of Osteopathy".)

The attendance for the 1939 Convention is looking good. From the requests for space, and the size of the attendance estimated by those making these requests, the 1939 A. O. A. Convention in Dallas should be a "record breaker".

Facilities Chairman.

Clinic Patients Wanted

Every osteopathic physician is a member of the Clinic Section for the A.O.A. Convention, because Drs. Sparks and Sparks, General Clinic Chairmen, want you to assist them in getting the right kind of clinics for the A.O.A. Convention next June. So, if you go to any osteopathic meeting and will tell your newspaper editor that you are a member of the Clinic Section of the Dallas Convention Committee entertaining the National Convention in Dallas, it will give pre-convention publicity. Besides, it attaches more importance to your profession, because the readers of your paper like to know that their doctor has a part in entertaining the National Assn.

Dr. Larry E. Giffen, Nacogdoches, Trustee of the State Association, has been doing some wonderful work on Vocational Guidance in some of the country schools, which is a step forward in building good-will for osteopathy as a member of the Public Relations Committee for the State Association.

Dr. Sam and Dr. Marille Sparks will have their new air-conditioned hospital finished in the next sixty days. It is located in a nice residential section of Dallas and will have at least 50 rooms and thirty beds.

You can see by the cut of the McAllister Hospital that it is a healthy-looking institution supported by all of the doctors of the Southeast District.

Corpus Christi has two osteopathic hospitals and the profession can feel complimented that the staffs of both hospitals work hand-in-hand for the good of the profession.

At the Marfa meeting visitors from half a dozen districts report that Drs. John and Claire Peterson are doing unusual work in their osteopathic hospital.

Drs. Wolfe and Duphorne at Athens, Texas, have an overflow of business and are making plans for a larger institution.

It is interesting to know that 100% of the osteopaths in Amarillo support the osteopathic hospital there and are proud of it.

Dr. Russell L. Martin, owner of the Pittsburg Osteopathic Hospital says he has the best hospital in Camp county.

Southwest Texas District VII

Drs. Henry and Tyree had the official opening of their thirty-one room hospital on Saturday, January 28th. This hospital is equipped for all types of surgery, and is one of the best equipped and most modern in the country. Drs. Henry and Tyree are to be highly complimented for their resourcefulness and splendid work. It is quite comforting to know that necessity for larger accommodations and a growing surgical practice made it mandatory that they increase and improve the facilities.

The International Society of Osteopathic Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology and the American Osteopathic Association of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology will hold their convention on June 22, 23, 24, and 25, prior to the A. O. A. Convention.

There will be need of many eye, ear nose and throat clinics. We are asking the entire profession to send in cases for examinations and surgery. Do not fail us.

E. C. BRANN, D.O.

Chairman of Clinic Committee

The national osteopathic society of Ophthalmology, Rhinology, and Otolaryngology under the able leadership of Dr. Lyman A. Lydic, Dayton, Ohio, holds its convention in Dallas on June 24, 25, and 26. Dr. A. B. Crites, Kansas City, is program chairman, and if Dr. Crites lives up to his reputation, he will have a scientific program to present in eye, ear, nose, and throat, that has never been excelled. Those of you who want to see new and approved types of eye, ear, nose, and throat surgery or treatment will have the opportunity to witness the demonstrations at this convention and you will also have the opportunity of bringing in your clinic cases that have not yielded to your treatment or cases that need the best skill in eye, ear, nose, and throat surgery and arrangements for such clinics are to be made with Dr. E. C. Brann, 418 Allen Bldg., Dallas, Texas.

R. H. PETERSON, D.O.,

Chairman of Com. of Arrangements.

lib Dr. Everett Wilson, San Antonio, tells us that the men who participated in golf tournament last summer in Cincinnati will re-enter to a man. The diversification of an afternoon out of doors with a bunch of fine fellows and good golfers adds much to the convention week. Handicaps will be so arranged at the Dallas tournament that every golfer, regardless of his score, will have an opportunity to claim the better prizes. The general program will give you the data as to the day for the tournament.

Husbands—Bring Wives

If the enthusiasm of the members of the newly organized Dallas Osteopathic Women's Association could be broadcast to the wives of all osteopathic physicians in the country, the 1939 convention in Dallas would be the biggest and best ever held.

This organization was formed in the spring of 1938 and is the only chapter of O. W. A. in the state. When regular meetings were begun last fall, plans were made for our part in the entertainment program for the A. O. A. convention next June.

The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Robert E. Morgan; Vice President, Mrs. H. L. Betzner; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Claude E. Logan; Corresponding Secy. and Publicity Chairman, Mrs. Jack W. Crawford.

All the meetings have been well attended and interesting, and marked by an air of informality much enjoyed by the members. Mrs. Morgan entertained with a bridge luncheon at her home for the December meeting, and Mrs. Claude E. Logan gave a quail luncheon at her home for the January meeting. (Thanks to Dr. Claude Logan's hunting prowess). The January luncheon was followed by a business meeting at which plans were perfected for the entertainment of the wives at the convention.

And such plans—if they are half as interesting as we think they are, the Texas convention will be talked about for years to come. They run the gamut from a fashion tea presented by nationally known style authorities at one of the loveliest roof gardens in the city to a Mexican luncheon in our own Little Mexico. We hope all the wives will want so much to attend that the doctors can do little else but bring them along.

The Dallas Osteopathic Women's Association is on the job and will be ready to greet you next June—and to do everything possible to make the convention a success for Osteopathy, for you, and for Texas.

MRS. JACK CRAWFORD,
Corresponding Secretary.

Panhandle District I

Officers of this district are:

President, R. P. Reeds, D.O., Lubbock
V. President, J. L. Witt, D.O., Groom
Secy-Treas., W. J. Williams, D.O.,
Groom

Program Chairman, Drs. Mann and Brown, Amarillo

Publicity Chairman, John R. Miller,
D.O., Plainview

Chairman of Dist. I, L. J. Vick, D.O., Amarillo

The last quarterly meeting of the Panhandle Society was held in Plainview in December. New officers will be elected at the next meeting, which will be held March 11, 1939, in Lockney as the guest of Dr. Homer Thompson, who also has charge of the program.

Dr. R. P. Reeds, Lubbock, has attended the athletic injuries of the football team of Texas Tech for the last eight years. The Tech Red Raiders were unbeaten and untied until they met defeat on January 2, 1939, in the Cotton Bowl, Dallas, by the St. Mary Gaels, 20 to 13. Dr. and Mrs. Reeds attended this game. Dr. Reeds addressed the Dallas D.O.'s on the "Care of Athletic Injuries".

Amarillo now has, and has for the past three years, a 100% membership in the district, state, and national associations. They challenge any other town in Texas of an equal number of members, or more, to equal this. These D.O.'s meet regularly once each week. Wednesday noon, at the Capitol Hotel. The luncheon is usually attended by all seven of its members.

Dr. Ted Krohn, who "rolls a wicked ball", represented Wichita Falls in the Amarillo "Open Bowling Tournament" Saturday, January 21st.

Dr. Ralph Moore spent the month of December in California taking special post-graduate work under Dr. Mel Waggoner.

Dr. and Mrs. E. W. (Jack) Cain and son, Jackie, spent the Christmas holidays in Burden, Kansas, visiting relatives. Dr. Cain was recently designated official referee for the Southwest A. A.

U. boxing tournament, to be held in Amarillo February 6. He has also been elected official "Tailtwister" of the Lion's Club.

At the annual installation dinner-dance of the Amarillo Kiwanis Club, held at the Country Club recently, Dr. John H. Chandler was presented a special award of honor for having a 100% attendance record for the past nine years.

Dr. J. Frances Brown edits the monthly bulletin, and is a member of the board of directors of the Amarillo Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Claud A. Thompson, recently of Lovington, New Mexico, has located in Hereford. Dr. Thompson recently spent several months with Dr. Thomas B. Morgan, in Clovis, New Mexico.

Dr. G. L. Robinson, formerly of Oberlin, Kansas, has opened an office in Happy after spending several months with Drs. Cradit and Vick in Amarillo.

It is reported that one Dr. Hull, of Kansas, will soon be located in Clarendon.

We deeply regret to report the recent death of two of our good neighbors just across the line in New Mexico, Dr. C. M. Bueler, ASO '14, Tucumcari, and Dr. H. R. Gibson, SSO '01, Clovis. Both of these men were real "wheel horses". Dr. Bueler has been, for many years, a member of the New Mexico Examining Board. New Mexico and the profession will keenly feel the loss of these two good men.

The Amarillo osteopathic physicians and surgeons entertained on December 30, 1938, for the local osteopathic students at a luncheon at the Capitol Hotel. The guests were Lewis Pittman, Trent Davis, Vernon Gau, Leroy Gau, H. G. Blasdel, Marshall Neal, Bill Ballard, and Doris Adams. Dr. Phil R. Russell, Ft. Worth, was the principal speaker.

Dr. Lee V. Cradit, Amarillo, Chairman of the P and P W Committee for the Panhandle District, has recently been elected Illustrious Potentate of the Khiva Temple, A.A.O.N.M.S.

North Texas District II

Officers of this district are:

President, Dar Dailey, D.O., Weatherford

Vice President, M. C. Adkins, D.O., Waxahachie

Secretary-Treasurer, J. R. Smith, D.O., Denison

The North Texas Osteopathic Association held its fall meeting at the Smith Clinic and Hospital in Denison on November 19, 1938. Dr. H. W. Locke, Gainesville, gave an interesting paper on "Obstetrics". Drs. Sam and Marille Sparks, Dallas, performed an instructive and successful Proctological operation. Dr. J. R. Smith, Denison, demonstrated his technic for a tonsilectomy and an adenectomy. A banquet was held in the evening at the Hotel Denison, at which time Mayor Scott gave an address of welcome. Dr. Marille Sparks responded in behalf of the Association, and then introduced those present. Dr. Locke was called on to assume the role of toastmaster. With Dr. Smith as song leader, and Mrs. Smith at the piano, an old time sing-song was held. Dr. Phil Russell spoke on Legislative problems;

The Drs. Russell, Russell and Russell are about to be outdone by the Kennys, who in a few months will be Drs. Kenney, Kenney, Kenney and Kenney.

New officers for the Fort Worth Society of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons are:

President, Dar Dailey, D.O.

Vice President, L. A. Bernhardt, D.O.

Secretary-Treasurer, Catherine Kenney, D.O.

Public Relations, H. M. Walker, D.O.

At the regular meeting of the Dallas County Osteopathic Association, on January 12, the following Fort Worth physicians presented a discussion on "Cause and Treatment of Coryza":

Dr. Catherine Kenney presented Dr. Charles Kenney, who gave a very able paper on "Cause", Dr. McAnally gave the non-medical treatment, and Dr. Bernhardt demonstrated Osteopathic treatment.

The next regular meeting of the North Texas Association will be on Saturday, February 18th, in Wichita Falls. Dr. R. H. Peterson who has been appointed program chairman, also has some other matters of vital interest to the osteopathic profession to bring up.

The North Texas District was organized in 1914. It has three members on the Legislative Committee and boy! how they have been travelling, losing time generously for their profession.

Dr. H. L. Betzner, the business and advertising man de luxe for the Dallas Convention Committee, visiting his old home, his wife's parents and some of his old sweethearts around Kirksville, contacted all the osteopaths in the community and in one town got 100% attendance for the Texas Convention.

Dr. M. E. Sutphin, the Athletic Program Chairman for the A.O.A. Convention in Dallas, has visited his Alma Mater, Des Moines, talked to the Senior class and made final arrangements with Dr. Virgil Halladay, who is to be honored at a luncheon, Friday, June 30, at the Adolphus Hotel. You have been asked to bring your coach and, if you do not, he is liable to think that you know nothing about treating athletic injuries.

Dr. L. A. Bernhardt made a trip to Big Spring with his wife and two daughters. One of the girls was sick a day or two, but the score was evened by him finding a valuable stamp to add to his collection.

Dr. Percy Hatcher, the eligible bachelor of the Model T Vintage, claims he has not been anywhere, done anything, or seen anyone, so leads a colorless life. We wonder?

Between his O.B.'s, Dr. Lloyd V. Parker spends his time on inventions.

Dr. and Mrs. Thos. L. Ray celebrated their fortieth wedding anniversary in December, and in May they have been in Fort Worth forty years. That sounds like they both have "stickability".

Dr. L. N. McAnally recently returned from Mathis, Texas, where he attended his sister's wedding. The bride and groom, who were to fly to South America on their honeymoon, found Dr. McAnally trying to hide in one of the suitcases.

East Texas District III

Officers of this district are:

President, Ross McKinney, Jr., D.O.,
Texarkana
Vice President, Dan Whitehead, D.O.,
Atlanta
Secretary-Treasurer, G. G. Porter,
D.O., Tyler.

The last regular monthly meeting of the East Texas Osteopathic Association was held in Jacksonville, on Saturday, January 14th. The afternoon was devoted to general and surgical clinics in the offices of Dr. W. M. Smith. Dinner and dancing at the Country Club terminated the day. Among the many things discussed at the business meeting was the very important matter relative to raising a legislative fund. During the meeting, $75.00 was raised.

Dr. and Mrs. Walter Colquitt, Shreveport, Louisiana, visited at this meeting. Dr. A. S. McArthur, Minnecola, is a new member.

The East Texas District Society was begun in 1930 with a membership of six, and has grown until its present membership is twenty-seven live, aggressive, young D.O.'s, well scattered throughout the territory.

The Twin City Osteopathic Society, met Dec. 10, 1938, for dinner. One doctor reported relief of insomnia of four days duration, by adjusting the atlas. An interesting observation was made in regard to a patient with a congenital short leg (left). During a treatment, patient had a paroxysm of coughing, sat up on the table—legs straight out in front of her. The doctor observed that the left malleoli was half an inch beyond the right. Upon examination, a lesion was found in the lower back. Later, Dr. Ross McKinney, Jr., ran reels of the following films:

"Osteopathic Mechanics of the Dorsal Area"—(Owned by Mrs. Ralph Rice and Geo. V. Webster).

"Hypertrophy of the Prostate"—(Owned by the Eastman Kodak Co.). The next meeting of the Twin City Osteopathic Society will be on February 11th, at Hotel McCartney. Dr. Chas. A. Champlin, Hope, will discuss "Blood Pressure and Its Significance".

Dr. Elizabeth Johnston, Texarkana, will speak to the Senior group of Girl Scouts on the Arkansas side. Her subject will be "Charm Through Health".

Dr. Walter T. Colquitt, Sr., father of Dr. Walter Colquitt, Shreveport, Louisiana, died December 20, 1938.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Bann, Jr., and son, William III, spent the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Bann's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bann and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Seibert, respectively. Mr. Bann is a senior at Kirksville College of Osteopathy.

Miss Ellen English, student at Kansas City College of Osteopathy, spent the holidays with her people, Dr. D. A. English and Dr. and Mrs. W. D. English.

Mr. Robert Wright, another Texarkanian studying Osteopathy, spent the holidays with his parents.

Doctors in Arkansas write that they are planning on attending the American Osteopathic Association Convention, to be held in Dallas, June 26-30, 1939.

West Texas District IV

The West Texas District of the Texas Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons held their quarterly meeting at Marfa, Texas, November 22-23, 1938.

One of the outstanding features of the meeting was the informal reception held the night of November 22nd, where about seventy-five representative people of Marfa met with the visiting Osteopaths. The evening's entertainment consisted of short talks, Spanish songs and dances, and a lecture by the State President, Dr. Chester L. Farquharson, illustrated with full length X-ray pictures of the spine and pelvis. This lecture aroused much interest and brought forth favorable comment from the lay visitors.

The meeting came to an end with a venison dinner where some of the leading citizens of Marfa joined the Osteopaths in another hour of pleasure. Those making the trip to Marfa were: Dr. Chester L. Farquharson, Houston; Drs. Charles and Catherine Kenney, Fort Worth; Drs. Mary Bedwell and Mary Lou Logan, Dallas; Dr. and Mrs. R. R. Norwood, Mineral Wells; Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Peterson and son, Ralph, Wichita Falls; Drs. Charles C. Carter and Ralph J. Cunningham, Big Spring; and Drs. John M. and Claire Peterson, Marfa.

The Drs. Peterson are very appreciative of the attendance and the Osteopathic spirit brought to the Big Bend Country by the visitors. Besides seeing old friends again and enjoying an all too short visit with them, the Doctors feel that those who made the trip to Marfa have done much to boost the prestige of Osteopathy.

Mr. Darden S. Evans, well known El Paso railroad man, husband of Dr. Lovie May Evans, passed away January 3, 1939.

Central Texas District V

The officers of this district are:

President, V. A. Kelley, D.O., Waco
G Vice President, Neil Thornhill, D.O.,
Marlin

Secretary, H. B. Mason, D.O., Temple

The Austin Association will entertain the Central Texas Association March 17-19.

Dr. James A. Deveny, formerly associated with his father, Dr. Albert L. Deveny, of Austin, is now located in Columbus, Texas.

Dr. Carl J. Wieland, formerly of Dallas and San Marcos, is now located in the Littlefield Building in Austin.

Dr. John Donovan, formerly of Tyler, was recently elected secretary of the Austin Association, to replace Dr. James Deveny.

Dr. Kelley, assistant program chairman for the 1939 A.O.A. Convention in Dallas, will speak on "Injuries of the Knee" at the Southeast Texas Osteopathic Society on March 4.

Dr. M. C. Atkins, Waxahachie, bagged a ten point buck and several turkeys on his annual deer hunt, recently.

Drs. Phil Russell, Everett Wilson, Louis H. Logan, Sam Scothorn, Sam Sparks, and H. E. Roberts were recently in Austin. All except Drs. Russell and Wilson attended the meeting in Corpus Christi.

Dr. Joe Love reports that a Mr. Harris, formerly an Episcopal minister, will start in Kirksville in the fall. Mr. Harris was forced to retire from the ministry because of blindness. He sees, in Osteopathy, a chance for a career in which his disability will not be a handicapped.

Dr. George J. Luibel, Ennis, visited friends and relatives in Springfield, Ohio, during the holidays. While in his native state, he attended several clinics.

Dr. A. T. Rhoads is physician for the State I.O.O.F. Home at Corsicana.

Dr. Clara Farr Achor, Brownwood, has the distinction of being the only Doctor in West Texas whose name was mentioned in the Social Directory of the United States.

Dr. N. A. J. Achor returned to Brownwood on December 20th from the U. S. Veterans' Hospital.

Drs. Charles and Catherine Kenney, Fort Worth, and Drs. Mary Bedwell and Mary Lou Logan, Dallas, recently visited Dr. Achor's office on a good will tour.

Dr. J. Ellen Gildersleeve, Waco, is writing "A letter a week" inviting Doctors and their wives to the 1939 A.O.A. Convention. She wrote notes on a number of Christmas cards which went from the Gulf of Mexico to the Dominion of Canada, and from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and has had several replies already.

PLEASE DO THIS

When detail men or representatives of firms selling professional supplies call on you, ask them if their firms advertise in Osteopathic publications, and if they have secured space for an exhibit at the 1939 A. O. A. Convention in Dallas.

Southeast Texas District VI

The officers of this district are:

President, A. J. Poage, D.O., El Campo

Vice President, William H. Badger, D. O., Houston

Secretary-Treasurer, W. V. Cooter, D. O., Houston

The last meeting was held in Houston on December 3, 1938.

Sam F. Sparks, D.O., Dallas, on "The Gall Bladder".

B. D. Henry, D.O., Corpus Christi, on "Fibrosis and Fibroids of the Uterus".

F. J. McAllister, D.O., Houston, on "Diagnosis and Treatment of Appendicitis".

Dr. Chester L. Farquharson, Houston, is program chairman of the next meeting which will be on March 4, 1939. Dr. R. R. Norwood, Mineral Wells, is to speak on "Hernia"; Dr. V. A. Kelley, Waco, on "Knee Conditions"; Dr. Wiley Jones, Orange, on "Amoebic Dysentery".

Dr. Sam L. Scothorn, Chairman of Public Relations for the A.O.A. Convention, reports that he attended the National Flower Show in Houston. While there, he attended a luncheon, February 13 at the Rice Hotel, given by the Houston Osteopathic Association and presided over by the President Lloyd Hammond. On the evening before, he and Mrs. Scothorn were entertained at the beautiful home of Dr. and Mrs. Chester L. Farquharson. The osteopaths and wives were all there—knee-deep. The interesting things of this report about his visit to Houston is that eight more from the Houston District registered to attend the A.O.A. Convention in Dallas, making a total of twenty registrants from that District. The next meeting of the Southeast District is to be held in Houston, March 4, and it was requested that Dr. George Hurt represent the Dallas Convention Committee and help them secure 90% of their membership on advance registration, which is their aim.

Southwest Texas District VII

The Southwest Texas District held a meeting in Corpus Christi, January 28-29. San Antonio was well represented and osteopaths from some of the smaller towns in the District were there. Dr. B. D. Henry was re-elected president; Dr. Jack Woolsey, Corpus Christi, Vice President; Dr. Hal Edwards, San Antonio, Secretary-Treasurer.

The District meeting had representatives from the following districts: eight from the Rio Grande, six from North Texas, four from Southeast District and two from East Texas District. A splendid scientific program was given with clinics in the hospital. Drs. Chester and Lester Farquharson from Houston demonstrated pelvic and spinal technique. Drs. Sparks, McAllister and Gorrell, all surgeons, were pleased with the general set-up of the new hospital. Dr. H. R. Coats of Tyler spoke about the State meeting in Fort Worth and Dr. Louis Logan of Dallas told about plans being made by the Dallas Convention Committee for the A.O.A. Convention. A very lovely banquet was held at the Plaza Hotel. After the banquet some Night Life was enjoyed at the spectacular Dragon Night Spot.

The Corpus Christi, City Association, has had regular meetings the last few years the same as the San Antonio City Association, therefore, it has been a little hard for the Southwest District to become well organized. The Corpus Christi officials are N. H. Hines, President, and Clarence P. Callison, Secretary-Treasurer. The San Antonio officers are Hal Edwards President, and O. L. Cooper, Secretary.

Drs. Everett and Homer Wilson lost their father at Washington Courthouse, Ohio, recently.

Will you please notify Dr. J. W. McPherson, 418 Allen Building, Dallas Texas, of what luncheon club you are a member at once? This information has been requested by Dr. F. B. Shain for the Society of Divisional Secretaries.

Rio Grande District VIII

The officers of this district are:

President, C. H. Chandler, D.O., Harlingen

Vice President, Lloyd Davis, D.O., McAllen

Secretary-Treasurer, Edith Williams, D.O., Pharr

The last meeting was held on December 24th at the home of Dr. C. H. Chandler, Harlingen. A delicious dinner was served by the host and hostess. Following a short business session, a social time was enjoyed. Christmas gifts were exchanged, which is a custom at this annual Christmas meeting.

Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Davis attended an executive meeting of the Texas Osteopathic Association at Austin on January 10th.

Dr. and Mrs. A. O. Scharff, McAllen, spent the holidays in Dallas.

Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Chandler, Harlingen, spent the Christmas holidays with relatives and friends in Columbus, Cherryvale, and Independence, Kansas. They also visited in Tulsa, Oklahoma, and Kerrville, Texas, returning home on January 7th.

Dr. Jacobine Kruze, San Benito, left on December 21st, for Chicago, to spend the holidays with her parents. While there, she attended the banquet given by the Chicago College of Osteopathy for the doctors attending the post-graduate course. Dr. Kruze returned home on January 8th.

The next regular meeting of the Lower Rio Grande Valley Association will be in San Benito, February 18th, with dinner at the Stonewall Jackson Hotel at 6:30 p.m. Dr. J. E. Baker, of Brazil, Indiana, will be the guest speaker, and will lecture on "Puritis Ani". Dr. Baker's lecture will be followed by a round table discussion.

Dallas announces 100% membership except one who says he is "retired".

Texas Cowboy—Art Allen

Dr. Arthur E. Allen, President of the American Osteopathic Association, was once a Texas Cowboy. He worked on a ranch at Robstown, Texas, in 1911, and entered Osteopathic College the latter part of the same year. He says he has heard of Texas mules and helped round up and brand Texas steers and that he still has Serapi blanket and braided horse hair bridle and rein. The lariat rope he took back was used to make a swing for his children in later years.

Mrs. Allen is a lineal descendent of Sam Houston.

Hands

(A poem dedicated to the Osteopathic Physicians of America)

*You give your strong and vital hands to find
The source of pain; your touch is quick and sure,
And as delicate as the fingers of the blind,
As you explore dark lanes and seek to cure
The ancient secret pains that torture men,
The old, old agonies that stalk the lands,
You wrestle with them all, and once again
Hurt bodies straighten, healed beneath your hands.*

*Your hearts and minds are kindled with a flame:
A zeal to win where others fail. You know
The body's desperate need; you have a name
You would uphold; in numbers you would grow
Until, new-visioned, all the world may see
And seek the help of Osteopathy.*

—GRACE NOLL CROWELL

Poet Laureate of Texas,
American Mother for 1938.

Past Presidents of Texas State Association

Osteopathic Physicians,
Greetings:

The round-up, in the language of the stockman, is when the herd is gotten together for the purpose of branding the mavericks. This makes them true members of the herd.

If the words of one who was branded in the first round-ups of the A. O. A. and the T. O. A. are worth anything to the reader, this effort has not been in vain.

The greatest good that can come to a member of any profession is that which comes through the rubbing of shoulders with those of like faith.

What we learn in school is only the beginning and starts us on the road. If one is an isolated maverick, following his individual inclinations, he is apt to get entirely out of the pasture.

Except for the constant revival of enthusiasm incident to the Osteopathic truths secured from his fellows, this old-timer would have been a very poor Osteopathic physician.

The coming of the A. O. A. to Texas is the greatest honor that has come to us. The honor will be greatly enhanced if we repay by our presence.

Yours for Osteopathy,
TOM RAY

The climax of many years work in bringing the American Osteopathic Association to Texas will mean to the profession of Texas a re-consecration of each and every osteopathic physician to our great truth, "Find it and Fix it".

Sincerely yours,
E. MARVIN BAILEY

The "Texas Round-Up" is a credit to Texas and to Osteopathy, and I am sure we are all very proud of having the A.O.A. Convention this year and should turn out and make it a convention that will stimulate attendance at future conventions.

Fraternally,
G. A. COBB

Yes, Claude, as suggested by the song, here we are, Mary and Paul two "old-timey" osteopaths, slightly disfigured after 37 years here, but too much in love with Texas and our profession to go to sleep, now, and not appreciate the opportunity the Dallas convention affords to boost for our wonderful state, extol its possibilities and welcome within its borders many needed additions to the Osteopathic profession now prospering under the best medical practice act yet enacted.

MARY AND PAUL PECK

The biggest state in the Union should have the biggest and best convention and our pride for our profession should stimulate us to want to have a part in putting it over in a big way.

A. D. RAY

Osteopathic Physicians of the Southwest:

This is the first and last time in history that you wake up to find the great American Osteopathic Association on your doorstep, so to speak.

Come out and extend some of that famous Southern hospitality to our guests from afar and also enjoy some of the same from our local hosts.

GENEVIEVE LAUGHLIN

Every Osteopathic Physician in Texas today has a golden opportunity to help his profession and himself. A carefully planned publicity campaign, oral and in the public print—will enhance the dignity and prestige of Osteopathy in his community and add materially to his own standing.

We are all pulling for Dallas to put over the biggest and best A. O. A. Convention in June, and all of us will try to make it a success.

Fraternally yours,

J. T. ELDER, D.O., Ex Past Pres.
Texas Osteopathic Association.

Dear Mr. Sullivan,

lib Osteopathic physicians of Texas, preparing to entertain the American Osteopathic Association next June in Dallas, appreciate your article, "If I Need Relaxation". George B. Dealey, president of the Dallas News, estimates it to be worth a million dollars to the profession.

This expression of thanks comes from the depths of our hearts, and we hope that you may continue to have relaxation through osteopathy.

Sincerely,

DALLAS CONVENTION COMMITTEE

Now we suggest that each of you write Mr. Sullivan a letter.
