

Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine

Speculum 2006

Dedication

Lt. General Ronald R. Blanck, D.O., (U.S. Army, retired) has served as president of UNTHSC in Fort Worth for the past 5 years. He is retiring this year so he can be closer to his family on the East Coast.

As president, Dr. Blanck oversees a growing academic health center that includes the Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine, Graduate School of Biomedical Sciences and School of Public Health. More than 190 full-time faculty and 300 volunteer community physicians work with nearly 1,000 students who are training to be osteopathic physicians, researchers, public health officers, physician assistants and other health professionals.

During Blanck's tenure, enrollment in the center's schools nearly doubled, research funding tripled, and the size of the campus doubled with the construction of the Center for BioHealth and the purchase of the nearby Osteopathic Medical Center of Texas.

Blanck expanded the center's network of hospital partnerships, opened a center for non-invasive imaging in the Center for BioHealth, helped bring the first federally funded community health clinic to Fort Worth, and expanded the biotechnology incubator in partnership with the city.

Dr. Blanck continues to be consulted as an advisor on bioterrorism issues and an expert in preparing the medical community to respond to mass casualty incidents or those involving weapons of mass destruction. He now chairs task forces on bioterrorism for both the TMA and the AOA, and was elected to the Board of Managers of the Association of Military Surgeons of the US in March 2006.

Thank you for your dedication to UNTHSC Dr. Blanck, you will be missed by all.

Dr. Clearfield is currently Professor of Medicine and Associate Dean for Clinical Research, Office of the Dean, Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine. After 27 years of service to the Health Science Center, Dr. Clearfield will be leaving the institution to assume the role as Dean at the Touro University College of Osteopathic Medicine in Vallejo, California.

Dr. Clearfield joined the faculty of UNTHSC in 1979 following completion of his internal medicine residency. In 1980, he was appointed Vice Chairman of the Department of Internal Medicine and then served as Chairman of the department from 1982-2002. During his tenure as chair of the Department of Medicine, Dr. Clearfield served as course director for both the internal medicine course and clinical clerkship as well as director of the internal medicine residency program. In 2002, he was appointed Associate Dean for Clinical Research and the Osteopathic Heritage Foundation Distinguished Chair in Clinical Research.

Dr. Clearfield currently serves as the AOA's representative to the National Cholesterol Education Program. He was the co-primary investigator for the Air Force/Texas Coronary Atherosclerosis Prevention Study (AFCAPS/TexCAPS) and was responsible for the TexCAPS component which was done on the campus of UNTHSC. AFCAPS/TexCAPS was the largest primary prevention trial done in the United States relative to the reduction of cholesterol to that of cardiovascular events and was instrumental in the creation of the current Adult Treatment Panel III guidelines for the treatment of cholesterol in this country.

Dr. Clearfield has been the recipient of many outstanding achievement awards in his field, and has been acknowledged by his peers as one of the top doctors in internal medicine as reported in Fort Worth Magazine. He has been an integral part of the development and success of UNTHSC-TCOM and he will certainly be missed.

GOOD TIMBER

The tree that never had to flight,
For sun and sky and air and light,
Never became a forest king,
But lived and died a scrubby thing.

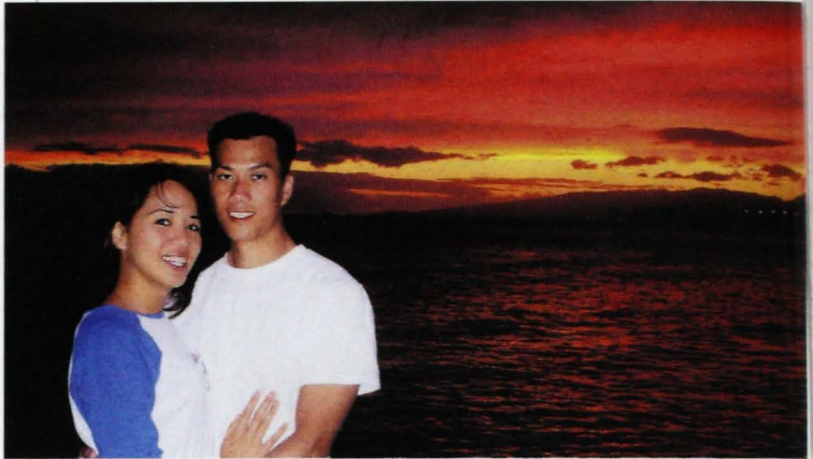

The man who never had to toil,
To heaven from the common soil,
never became a manly man,
But lived and died as he began.

Good timber does not grow in ease,
The stronger wind, the tougher trees;
By sun and cold, by rain and snows,
In tree or man, good timber grows.

Education never ends...It is a series of lessons with the greatest for the last.

Always laugh when you can. It is cheap medicine.

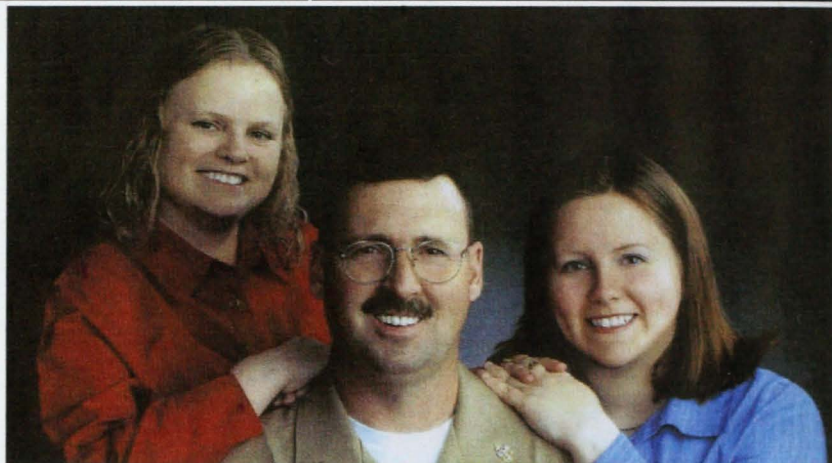

If you can't dazzle 'em with brilliance, baffle 'em with B.S.

The more complex the mind, the greater the need for the simplicity of play.

To pursue science is not to disparage the things of the spirit. In fact, to pursue science rightly is to furnish a framework on which the spirit may rise.

Life is infinitely stranger than anything which the mind of man could invent.

Accept that some days you're the pigeon, and some days you're the statue.

John Lennon

Imagine there's no heaven
It's easy if you try
No hell below us
Above us only sky
Imagine all the people
Living for today...

Imagine there's no countries
It isn't hard to do
Nothing to kill or die for
And no religion too
Imagine all the people
Living life in peace...

You may say I'm a dreamer
But I'm not the only one
I hope someday you'll join us
And the world will be as one

Imagine no possessions
I wonder if you can
No need for greed or hunger
A brotherhood of man
Imagine all the people
Sharing all the world...

You may say I'm a dreamer
But I'm not the only one
I hope someday you'll join us
And the world will live as one

Imitating Christ's Humility

If you have any encouragement from being united with Christ, if any comfort from his love, if any fellowship with the Spirit, if any tenderness and compassion, then make my joy complete by being like-minded, having the same love, being one in spirit and purpose. Do nothing out of selfish ambition or vain conceit, but in humility consider others better than yourselves. Each of you should look not only to your own interests, but also to the interests of others.

A Final Word from Shelly and Dan...

It has been my pleasure to serve the TCOM Class of 2006 as your Historian for the past four years. I hope you have enjoyed the energy and humor I attempted to bring to this position over my tenure. It is my hope that I have helped capture on photo some of your lasting memories of medical school. While I will be graduating with the TCOM Class of 2007 (for those of you who forgot, no, I didn't fail, I did the OMM Pre-Doctoral Fellowship), I will always consider myself a part of the Class of 2006. As a parting note, I hope that all of you stay true to your osteopathic roots, and practice medicine as a true osteopathic physician. I wish the best of luck to all of you in your careers and lives! - Daniel Clearfield

As I complete the final page in this book, it is a very bittersweet moment. Although it has been frustrating at times trying to fit 15 pictures with captions, 5 quotes, and messages to family and friends on ONE PAGE, it has also been a very special project to me. I've gotten to know each one of you a little bit more and add to the memories of our time at TCOM. You have each given so much to me, and hopefully this book is a little something I can give back to you. I hope each of you enjoy this book for years to come and it will bring back fond memories of our four years together. I wish you all the best and will miss each one of you.

I want to thank Tommy Hawkes, Steccie Morgan, and Brandon Zinn for providing pictures. Thank you to Mo Rezaie for help with the book, and a HUGE thank you to LaPonna IrvineMoore for all of the above.

No matter where you are always remember: "We all take different paths in life, but no matter where we go, we take a little of each other everywhere." -- Tim McGraw

I love you all - Shelly Hamrick
