FOR CLINICAL ANXIETY

EFFICACY EQUAL TO DIAZEPAM WITH LESS DROWSINESS

In double-blind, placebo-controlled clinical trials in 976 patients with moderate to severe clinical anxiety, therapy with XANAX was compared to diazepam (Valium).*

Patients treated with XANAX had a significantly lower incidence of drowsiness when compared directly to diazepam therapy (Valium) in a 976-patient, placebo-controlled, multicenter study.*

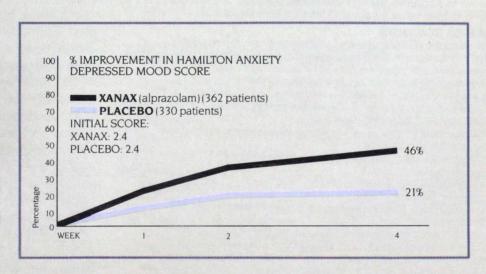

AND CLINICAL ANXIETY WITH DEPRESSIVE SYMPTOMS

EFFECTIVE IN CLINICAL ANXIETY WITH DEPRESSIVE SYMPTOMS

Patients with clinical anxiety may complain of having feelings of depression, such as sadness, blueness, or loneliness.

Depressed mood is one of 14 items on the Hamilton Anxiety Rating Scale. Special analysis of 692 anxious patients with a significant depressed mood item score showed that treatment with XANAX was significantly better than placebo in decreasing depressed mood score.

SIMPLE DOSAGE: XANAX 0.25-0.5 mg T.I.D.

The usual starting dose of XANAX is 0.25 to 0.5 mg, three times daily.

Please see next page for brief summary of prescribing information.

XANAX® Tablets © (alprazolam)

CONTRAINDICATIONS

Patients with sensitivity to this drug or other benzodiazepines and in acute narrow angle glaucoma.

Not of value in psychotic patients. Caution patients against hazardous occupations requiring complete mental alertness and about the simultaneous ingestion of alcohol and other CNS depressant drugs

Benzodiazepines can cause fetal harm in pregnant women. Warn patients of the potential hazard to the fetus. Avoid during the first

PRECAUTIONS

General: If XANAX is combined with other psychotropics or anticonvulsant drugs, consider drug potentiation (see Drug Interaction section). Exercise the usual precautions regarding size of the prescription for depressed or suicidal patients. In elderly and debilitated patients, use the lowest possible dosage (see Dosage and Administration). Observe the usual precautions in treating patients with impaired renal or hepatic function

Information for Patients: Alert patients about (a) consumption of alcohol and drugs.(b) possible fetal abnormalities.(c) operating machinery or driving (d) not increasing dose of the drug due to risk of dependence, (e) not stopping the drug abruptly. Laboratory Tests: Not ordinarily required in otherwise healthy patients. Drug Interactions: Additive CNS depressant effects with other psychotropics, anticonvulsants, antihistamines, ethanol and other CNS depressants. Pharmacokinetic interactions with benzodiazepines have been reported. Drug/Laboratory Test Interactions: No consistent pattern for a specific drug or specific test. Carcinogenesis, Mutagenesis, Impairment of Fertility: No carcinogenic potential or impairment of fertility in rats. Pregnancy: See Warnings. Nonteratogenic Effects: The child born of a mother on benzodiazepines may be at some risk for withdrawal symptoms and neonatal flaccidity. Labor and Delivery: No established use. Nursing Mothers: Benzodiazepines are excreted in human milk. Women on XANAX should not nurse. Pediatric Use: Safety and effectiveness in children below the age of 18 have not been established

Side effects are generally observed at the beginning of therapy and usually disappear with continued medication. In the usual patient, the most frequent side effects are likely to be an extension of the pharmacological activity of XANAX, e.g., drowsiness or lightheadedness.

Central Newous System: Drowsiness, lightheadedness, depression, headache, confusion, insomnia, nervousness, syncope, dizziness, akathisia, and tiredness/sleepiness.

Gastrointestinal: Dry mouth, constipation, diarrhea, nausea/vomiting, and increased salivation

Cardiovascular: Tachycardia/palpitations, and hypotension.

Sensory: Blurred vision.

Musculoskeletal: Rigidity and tremor.

Cutaneous: Dermatitis/allergy.

Other Side Effects: Nasal congestion, weight gain, and weight loss. In addition, the following adverse events have been reported with the use of anxiolytic benzodiazepines: dystonia, irritability, concentration difficulties, anorexia, loss of coordination, fatigue, sedation, slurred speech, jaundice, musculoskeletal weakness, pruritus, diplopia, dysarthria. changes in libido, menstrual irregularities, incontinence and urinary retention.

Paradoxical reactions such as stimulation, agitation, increased muscle spasticity, sleep disturbances, and hallucinations may occur. Should these occur, discontinue the drug.

During prolonged treatment periodic blood counts, urinalysis, and blood chemistry analyses are advisable. Minor EEG changes, of unknown significance, have been observed

DRUG ABUSE AND DEPENDENCE

Physical and Psychological Dependence: Withdrawal symptoms have occurred following abrupt discontinuance of benzodiazepines. After prolonged therapy, dosage should be tapered. Controlled Substance Class: XANAX is a controlled substance and has been assigned to schedule IV.

CAUTION: FEDERAL LAW PROHIBITS DISPENSING WITHOUT PRESCRIPTION.

DR. SCHMIDT URGES SUPPORT OF HELMET LAW (H.B. 57)

This year the state legislature will be considering H.B. 57 which will require all motorcyclists in Texas to wear protective headgear. I believe our organization should support this legislation in the interest of public health.

Texas formerly had a helmet law, but it was repealed some time ago. When it was no longer required to use helmets while riding, the motorcycle fatality rate increased. Some riders oppose this law on grounds of "freedom of choice" and the argument that the individual who is killed because he did not wear a helmet is hurting only himself. Try telling that to his widow, his children, or his mother. Society suffers from a brain-damaged invalid.

I would urge all members of TOMA and people they may influence to contact their legislators in support of H.B. 57. We must protect those who need protection.

ARE YOU RISKING YOUR LICENSE?

TOMA President, Dr. W.R. "Russ" Jenkins, was recently asked to appear before the State Board of Medical Examiners to hear the Board's concerns regarding the utilization of students of foreign medical schools in some Texas hospitals and to offer the Board his suggestions.

The concern of the Board is that some of these students may be attending foreign medical schools which do not have adequate curriculum standards and, therefore, these students may not be eligible to obtain a medical license in Texas.

The problem areas, according to Dr. Jenkins, are twofold. First, any time spent by these medical students or "preceptees" does not fulfill the requirements for obtaining a medical license in Texas insofar as postgraduate training is concerned because the Board will not accept the first two years training.

Secondly, and most important to TOMA members, a physician preceptor may be in jeopardy of losing his license since he may be in violation of Section 3.08 (12) of the Medical Practice Act dealing with "Lending of License", if his preceptee is from a non-accredited foreign medical school.

Dr. Jenkins explained he would inform TOMA's membership and requested that more information concerning this problem be made available to the membership at the Board of Medical Examiner's booth at the upcoming convention.

Senate Unanimously Passes TOMA Legislation

The Senate Education Committee, by a vote of 9-0, has passed a committee substitute for Senate Bill 387 by Senators Hugh Parmer and Bob McFarland. This bill requires the President and Chief Operating Officer of the Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine be a licensed D.O. with at least five years practicing experience.

Although the final version of this bill was supported by both Senators from Tarrant County, Parmer and McFarland, where TCOM is located, and the Denton County Senator Bob Glasgow, where North Texas State University is situated, the chairman of the Board of NTSU/TCOM Regents testified against this bill.

As discussion of the bill began, Senator Truan from Corpus Christi, vice chairman of the committee, interrupted to say his district had already benefited from D.O.s who had graduated from TCOM and therefore he would like to co-sponsor this legislation. He was joined by Senator Vale from San Antonio who added "sign me up too!"

Tex Roberts, TOMA executive director, was the first witness in support of SB 387. He stated one of the reasons he was asked to come to the association was to help assure the continued growth of the Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine and this bill was a necessary step.

Dr. David Beyer, TOMA trustee and chairman of the Governmental Relations Committee, was called next to testify. Dr. Beyer gave an excellent statement telling of the support TCOM has among D.O.s throughout the state and the commitment TOMA has in assuring the quality of D.O.s remain high.

Chairman of the Senate Education Committee, Senator Carl Parker from Port Arthur and a long time supporter of TOMA legislation then was able to mention another important TOMA bill by asking beyor if discrimination against D.O.s still exists Texas. Dr. Beyer was quick to answer, yes, known that Senator Parker, along with 11 other senators, a co-sponsoring a bill that calls for an end to discrimnation against D.O.s in Texas. That bill is SB 635.

Finally, the opposition was asked to speak. It chairman of the NTSU/TCOM Board of Regents, in Brown from Midland, testified the Board was strong opposed to this legislation and felt it was unnecess to require an osteopath run an osteopathic medical school. This statement was questioned by Sense John Montford, a freshman senator from Lubbot who asked, "If NTSU has a Ph.D. in English runs the English Department, a Ph.D. in Education runs the Education Department, and a Ph.D. in Physics in ning the Physics Department, what was wrong with osteopath running an osteopathic medical school

Finally, the testimony came to a close with Sensi Carl Parker stating, "I understand there may be sen good administrators who understand osteopathy who aren't D.O.s who may be able to run TCOM well; in fact, Tex Roberts is a good administrator, and dedicated to the osteopathic profession as anyone he's not a doctor, but unless you want to appoint president of TCOM, I think they (TOMA) have a to have a D.O. run the school."

On a motion by Senator Vale, the Education of mittee passed SB 387, 9-0, and the full Senater soon vote on this measure. Senator McFarland after the committee, "This bill will sail throught entire Senate, unless they appoint Tex Roberts prodent of TCOM, then we might have to pull the down."

Late Bulletin

As the Texas DO went to press, S.B. 387 had passed in the Senate 29-0 and sent to the House where a hearing was to take place in the third week of March. The Senate bill mandates a chancellor of both schools, a D.O. president of TCOM and a president of NTSU.

Representative Lanny Hall carries the companion bill in the House.

S. B. 635 prohibiting discrimination against med degrees, M.D. or D.O., in Texas hospitals was approby Senate Human Resources' Committee 7-0 deg TMA opposition. It goes to the full Senate soon.

Senator Chet Brooks, chairman of the committee and all members of the committee are sponsor support S.B. 635.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

relating to the chief executive officers of North Texas State University and the Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

SECTION 1. Section 105.74, Texas Education Code, is amended to read as follows:

Sec. 105.74. CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICERS (The chief-executive-officer of the university-shell-serve as chief-executive officer of the college of esteopathic medicine.)

The Board of Regents of North Texas State University shall appoint a Chancellor who shall serve as Chief Executive Officer of North Texas State University and the Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine. The Board of Regents shall appoint a President of North Texas State University and a President of the Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine who shall serve as Chief Operating Officers of each institution, respectively. The President of the Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine shall be a licensed physician who possesses a doctor of osteopathy degree from an accredited osteopathic school and licensed to practice medicine in some state of the United States for a minimum of five years.

SECTION 2. The importance of this legislation and the crowded condition of the calendars in both houses create an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each house be suspended, and this rule is hereby suspended, and that this Act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

How to Ruin A Perfectly Good Partnership

By Francis A. Lombardo, M.D.

Practice partnerships are no easy thing to sustain successfully. I've seen a dozen of them go down the drain in my time, despite the fact that in most cases the doctors were excellent physicians.

Sometimes money was at the root of the problem; occasionally one of the doctors just wanted to move on to something new. But more often, it was simply an accumulation of little things that led to the breakup—petty needling, thoughtless carping, and a woeful lack of understanding of team play. Whatever the reason, when the partners split, it was hard on them and their patients— and none too pleasant for the rest of us doctors in town.

There are all sorts of ways to sow the seeds of dissention. Here's my list. If you're already a partner, try them out only if you're longing to go solo. Any one of them, I warn you, will guarantee you'll soon be working nights and weekends again.

Talk about your partner behind his back. That's the favorite practice-wrecker, and it certainly did the job reserpine 0.1 mg, hydralazine hydrochloride 25 mg, hydrochlorothiazide 15 mg in one partnership I know of. I guess Barry figured he got the other guys to like Mike less, they'd like he more. Every time he got one of them alone, he'd he forth on how Mike was getting senile and Barry he saved his neck once again. Trouble was that the other partners had worked with Mike for years and kne how great a doctor he was. Whenever Barry started on him, they'd simply crumple up their coffee cup and walk away. Eventually someone tattled to Mike and that was finis for that partnership.

Be as different from your partner as you can. Massure no one ever accuses you of playing follow-bleader. If your partner orders Nembutal, you one Seconal; if he likes Fergon, insist that the nurses only Feosol with your patients. When a nurse have you his favorite suture material, brush it away in gust. After all, you have to assert your independent

Leave your manners at home. Decide that if you too easy to get along with, your partner will the you're a boob. There are countless things you can

Seraphis Seraphis Seraphis prove otherwise. If you're a smoker and he's not, never refrain from lighting up when he's giving you the morning briefing. He may object to the trail of cigar butts and ashes you leave around the office, but after all, it's your office, too.

Of course, if you both smoke, you can mooch his igarettes. The possibilities for sponging, in fact, are ractically limitless — you can raid his locker for razor lades, shaving cream, or deodorant, polish off the ookies in his desk drawer, borrow his journals and olf clubs. Don't be too quick to replace or return — hat's for softies.

Do your darndest to get his goat. Here are some asy ways to irritate him: Rib him about his clothes, is car, or his golf game; show up at the office late; eave early without an explanation; read the paper or loodle while he's talking to you. If he puts up a fuss, e's obviously not geared to partnership. Just don't peak to him for a couple of days.

Avoid monotony by stirring up controversy. Sonstant feuding over abortion, politics, and social issues made bitter enemies out of Marion and Etta and roke up their partnership. It was religion that did in Sed, a devout Catholic, and Alan, an avowed atheist. It alan never missed the chance to take a swipe at orgazized religion — but the day he called the pope a pomous old fool, the curtain came down for good on that artnership.

Talk down to your partner so he'll know who's boss. Iow can a kid fresh out of residency even come close by your fund of knowledge and experience? Let him now from his first lucky day with you how much he as yet to learn and how much money you're losing ast by taking him in. Or if the partner is over 45, treat im with monosyllabic condescension; feign amused nock when the old goat turns out to know the right osage of Demerol or the newest therapy for arthritis.

Keep your partner guessing. If he likes to make ounds at 8 a.m., show up at the hospital at 9, just to ut him on notice that he can't take you for granted. you come across some information on one of his atients that he happened to overlook, keep it to yourelf. That ought to teach him a lesson. And when you off for the weekend, why make the effort to clue im in on your patients? Maybe he needs to be shown p.

Of course, some doctors don't do things this way. They're happy with their partners and want to keep neir partnerships intact. I'm one of these. Having had both ways, I'm sold on partnership practice and the nany advantages it affords — better working hours, nore time off for leisure and learning, more interesting tinical experiences. Most of all, there's nothing in solo ractice that can match having a loyal ally always on ap.

Sadly, too many younger doctors jettison all these dvantages by being just plain childish. And too many asoned doctors, who should know better, forget that it's like to be young — perhaps wet behind the ears, but very excited about medicine.

There are ways to preserve the delicate balance of a good partnership. They begin, in fact, before it's even formed. If you're considering joining a practice or choosing an associate, the first thing to do is to look beyond medical expertise to make sure you'll at least have a chance of getting along with the guy operating across the table from you. In medicine, opposites don't attract for long.

Certainly you'll do some things differently - after all, you don't want an association of clones. But instead of dwelling on the differences, accentuate the many ways in which you're alike. I'm thinking, for example, of one solid partnership in which the doctors are far apart in age, yet there's no generation-gap problem. They often attend one-day seminars together, following them with a dinner to which their wives are invited and at which they can hash over what they've just learned and how they can fit it into their practice. If one takes a longer course, he briefs the other on it as soon as he gets back, and his partner listens attentively. In such a partnership, the physicians refuse to one up or compete with each other. They're not afraid they'll look stupid if they ask a question about something they don't understand. When one of them has pulled off an especially good result, the other is quick to compliment him. Neither dwells on the other's occasional goof.

Obviously, good partners are good friends — unless they overdo it. Jan and Grace were never apart until their whole relationship came apart at the seams, including their medical one. Contrast their unhappy experience with that of two other super partners I know. They make rounds together at the hospital, and when one enters the room, the other shows visible pleasure. I've watched these doctors chatting amiably together over coffee in the lounge about their families, their hobbies, and their cases. I've yet to hear one make a crack about the other behind his back. Their loyalty to each other is wholehearted.

Outside their practice, however, they go their own ways, belonging to different clubs and moving in different social sets. Although they're both avid sportsmen, they steer clear of even friendly competition and have yet to square off across the tennis net. They limit their non-practice togetherness to occasional holiday dinners yet keep tabs on the milestones in each other's lives with cards and flowers. Similarly, their wives are cordial, non-competitive, and interested in the practice but content to "let the boys run the show."

Partners like these have it made. They've learned the art of working together in mutual affection and respect and of being good friends but not possessive ones. And that's what it takes to cement a partnership.

CME Program

Physician participation is the key to the continuing medical education program put together by hairman Richard M. Baldwin, D.O., for the 84th Annual TOMA Conention and Scientific Seminar.

The three-day program will inplude a series of problem-solving sessions involving common complaints which have been outlined and discussed in the last two issues of the Texas DO. On the agenda are discussions of vaginitis, otitis, seedache, cough and fever, sore throat and urinary tract infection.

Dr. Baldwin has asked that partiipating physicians come to the eminar prepared with additional questions and issues — "and reierences." "If you have a point or approach to defend, your ource must be from current literture (no more than five years old)," Dr. Baldwin reminds.

To receive the full 23 hours of ME credit, physicians must regiser before noon on Thursday, May 5.

Physicians registering at the folwing times will receive the credits sted.

Alumni of all the ther osteopathic schools are inted to join either the KCOM or COM breakfast.

Spouses Seminar

A free seminar on estate and fincial planning will be offered again spouses of TOMA members aring this year's convention by alliam H. Dean and Associates of the worth. And in addition to the nancial advice, there is a special anus — spouses who participate the day can then write off their p as a tax deduction.

The seminar will be offered on iday and Saturday mornings, May and 7, from 8 to 10 in the Trinity ntral Room on the first floor of Americana Hotel. Everyone is elecome, but those who wish a tax duction must attend both days a sign the attendance roster.

Ice Cream Break & Drawing With Exhibitors

The Exhibit Hall at this year's TOMA convention will be a special gathering place twice each day with an old fashioned "ice cream social" each morning from 10 to 11 and a "Welcome to Cowtown" drawing each afternoon between 3:30 and 4.

The ice cream treat is sponsored by District II Auxiliary of TOMA, and the physicians will have an opportunity during the morning breaks to visit each of the exhibitors.

For the afternoon drawings, each registrant will match up a card in his or her registration packet with a booth number. Bring the card to that booth at 3:30 each day, and if your number is drawn, you'll win a special prize. Don't miss the action!

Exhibit hours are 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. May 5-7.

Golf, Tennis

Golfers and tennis players get your game in shape. The TOMA Annual Golf and Tennis Tournaments are scheduled for 7:30 a.m., Friday, May 6 in Fort Worth.

The location for this year's tournaments will be the beautiful Ridglea Country Club.

For the golfers, the Men's (South) course will be used.

Buses for both events will depart from the Americana Hotel at 6:45 a.m. and will return following the Golf Tournament.

Registration fee for the Golf Tournament is $35 and includes ½ cart, green fee and transportation to and from the country club. Registration fee for the Tennis Tournament is $15 and includes court fee and transportation.

Be sure and include your completed registration slip and the appropriate fee when you send in your convention registration.

AOA Luncheon

Mervin E. Meck, D.O. of New Smyrna Beach, Florida, will be the special guest at the annual AOA President-elect's Luncheon Friday, May 6.

The incoming AOA president is in general practice in Florida and also serves as executive director of the Florida Osteopathic Medical Association.

EFFFFFFFFFFFFFFFFFFFF

POPPS

Past presidents of TOMA are again being asked to answer roll call during the traditional POPPS gathering Friday, May 5, at 6 p.m. in the Americana Hotel's Live Oak Room. All past presidents are asked to attend but are not required to work.

As in the past, Lester I. Tavel, D.O., of Bradenton, Florida will travel great distances to chair this eminent assembly.

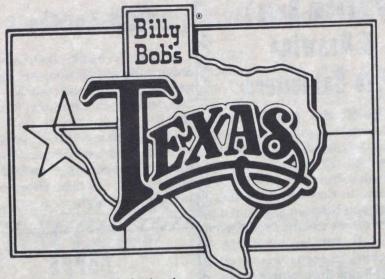

Sustainer Party

It'll be spring roundup time for TOMA Sustainers Thursday night, May 5, at 6 p.m. on the Terrace of the Americana Hotel — unless the weather herds the group indoors. The flavor will be western for this special gathering, with entertainment provided by "Texas", a "band with a sound as big as its name."

The five-piece group features both country and pop music, with vacals in singles, duos and trios.

Sustainers also will have a chance to win a Chianina steer, fully prepared and just awaiting your freezer, at the Fun Night on Saturday, May 7. The steer has been donated by Drs. Robert Finch and Robert Haman.

If you are not already a sustainer, you better sign on quick.

Even if it were called simply, "Billy Bob's", it would stand to reason that Billy Bob's Texas is located in the nation's mythic state. Where else would you put the world's largest country music night-club?

Come and join District II at "Billy Bob's Texas" immediately following the traditional President's Dinner and installation of officers.

Star performer for the evening of May 6 will be "Ronnie Milsap". Buses will leave in front of the hotel at 9:45 p.m. Milsap's performance will begin at 10:45 p.m.

Tickets are now available at the TOMA state office for $15.00 each. There is a limited supply so make plans now to see the largest Honky-Tonk in the world. Deadline for purchasing tickets is April 25.

Billy Bob's Texas covers some 100,000 square feet under roof, in what began as a horse barn next to the Cowtown Coliseum in the "Hell's Half Acre" days around the turn-of-the-century.

Estimated capacity is approximately 6,000. There is table seating for about 3,500 people, and plenty of roaming-around room for a nother 2,500.

There are 42 bars throughout the club, so you never go thirsty.

The rodeo arena seats about 300 Professional bull riding, featuring cowpokes traveling the professional rodeo circuit, as well as informal competition between man and beast, is staged there.

There is a 30,000 square foot dance floor. The performing hall covers 50,000 square feet at maximum use periods, but can easily be cut to half that size for acts that work best in smaller surroundings

Besides the rodeo arena, Billy Bob's Texas also boasts of three restaurants, a souvenier and clothing store, 42 bar stations, Texas Dry Goods Store, Texas Gold Rush, Frontier Photo Studio, Texas Bootshine, Texas Hairhouse, Carice ture & Portrait Artists, Pool Hall & Pinball Whoopee and many more

President's Night

The annual President's Reception and Dinner/Dance scheduled for Friday, May 6 will honor president William R. Jenkins, D.O. of Dallas, this year's outgoing president and Robert G. Maul, D.O. of Lubbock the incoming president.

The reception beginning at 6:30 p.m. in the Americana Ballroom Foyer is sponsored by the American Medical International, Inc.

Following the installation of officers participants will be enjoying music and dance with a four piece combo.

For those who would rather go to Billy Bob's Texas for the evening, the buses will be leaving the Americana Hotel at 9:45 p.m.

TCOM Tour

Before you get dressed up for Fun Night, there is one last "must see" on the agenda during your stay in Fort Worth — a tour of Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine. If you haven't visited the school in the last few months, you're in for a surprise.

Buses will leave the Americana Hotel at 2 p.m. Saturday for the short drive to the TCOM campus, and faculty and staff will be available to bring you up to date on what is going on at the college.

A highlight of the tour will be the $15.5 million Medical Education Building 2, which opened last fall to house the basic science departments, including much of the medical research.

The five-level, 135,000-squarefoot facility includes complete animal facilities on the first level which is mostly underground. The second level features a kiva classroom, a horseshoe-shaped room providing maximum viewing of classroom demonstrations; a multipurpose teaching laboratory with 124 student stations; and a 125 seat multi-media classroom. The third, fourth and fifth levels house faculty and staff offices, individual instruction labs and special purpose labs for the departments of anatomy, biochemistry, microbiology and immunology, pharmacology and physiology, as well as the medical arts division of the department of biomedical communications

More information about the town will be available in the registration packet.

Leasing Makes Dollars & Sense

TOMA's Official Leasing Agent

Comprehensive financial planning usually includes leasing (instead of buying) your automobile, laboratory, clinic & office equipment, which is responsible for our total Service Leasing Program — Exclusive for the Medical Profession.

Our intent is always to maintain the lowest preferred rates and unprecedented service, while attaining the highest degree of integrity with responsible communication with our customers.

Why Lease? Lower Monthly Payments. Less cash needed up front. Another source of capital. More care for less dollars. Saves valuable time, and it's easier. Simplifies bookkeeping.

Any Make Anywhere in Texas: If you wish to dispose of a present auto, we will take it in trade and apply its value to your lease, lowering your payments or pay you its value in cash.

Tax Advantages: In most cases the lease payment is a direct business expense, and eliminates capitalizing the vehicle for depreciation purposes.

If Leasing Isn't for You? Whenever possible Trans-Texas will purchase any given auto in your trade area, or from a dealer of your choice. If needed, arrangements can be made to deliver the vehicle to your door, statewide!

EXAMPLE LEASE RATES

Based on NEW 1983 prices with availability. Most are luxury-equipped to include AM-FM stereo radios, air conditioning and power assets.

Olds 98 Regency Cadillac Sedan D' Ville Buick Riviera BMW 320 i Mercedes Benz 240-D from $285.00 per month from $369.00 per month from $299.00 per month from $304.00 per month from $359.00 per month

Rates for ALL makes and models on request

We lease any make Car, both import and domestic. You tell us what you want (make, model, color and equipment) and we'll find and deliver it to you, at your office or ours, or to your residence at your convenience.

We also lease equipment.

A70MA News

By Priscilla T. Briney ATOMA News Chairman

WOW! I sure hope everyone in the state read last months Journal. It was all about the State Convention AND Fort Worth. It made me realize once again how much I enjoy living in this great area of our state.

I promised you last month more information on "Presidents Day" in Granbury. By now you have received another mailing from the TOMA office with State Convention information. Included in that mailing was some information on Granbury and a letter from the Chamber of Commerce and the Historic District Merchants Association welcoming us to their interesting town. Yes! Linda Powell, President of the Historic District Merchants Association is an ATOMA member and Past President of District II.

Installation will be held in the Opera House on the square. It was built in 1886, fell into disuse and disrepair, finally refurbished and grandly reopened in 1975. Our own Lois Mitten is AAOA Official Visitor and will be doing the installing so, of course, it will be special. Please don't miss it. It means a lot to all of YOUR incoming officers for you to be there for the installation. After installation we have been invited to stay and watch the dress rehearsal of the play, "Natalie Needs a Nightie", that is opening that evening. With a title like that, who can refuse to stay? We will be back to the hotel in plenty of time to take a nap, have a drink, see an exhibit or two, change clothes, or anything else you want to do, and ready for the Presidents' Banquet festivities scheduled. It will be a leisurely day to be enjoyed by ALL spouses so be sure to plan to attend.

This year the auxiliary will be holding a drawing for a trip to the Orient. According to LeAnn Speece, the trip includes a four night stay at the deluxe Shangri-La located on the Kowloon waterfront overlooking the harbor and Hong Kong Island. You will have a stopover in Honolulu and then the option of stopping at Tokyo, Seoul, Taipeior again at Honolulu. The trip also includes airfare to and from Los Angeles. If you aren't able to buy your tickets before the convention they will be on sale during the week of the convention. So, purchase as many as you can, you may be the lucky winner.

As of this writing, the rumon about Billy Bobs Texas have not been completely tracked down by this sleuth. But, never fear, careful reading of THIS Journal will lead you to some further enlightment.

Make your plans now to attend YOUR State Convention. Meet of friends AND make new ones. Planto come, enjoy and PARTICIPATE clinic director Stephen Urban, D.O., and other TCOM faculty physicians.

The new clinic includes five examining rooms, a minor emergency/physical therapy room, an office and a staff conference room.

The Southside Clinic is TCOM's fourth Fort Worth family practice clinic. The college also operates two rural clincs, in Godley and Justin.

Robert M. Woodworth, D.O., associate professor of public health and preventive medicine at TCOM, was recently elected president of the American Osteopathic Academy of Public Health and Preventive Medicine.

Johannes Steenkamp, D.O., chairman of the TCOM department of public health and preventive medicine, was named to the board of directors of the professional organization.

The academy, founded in the late 1970s, includes osteopathic physicians who specialize in public health, general preventive medicine, aerospace medicine and occupational/environmental medicine.

UOMHS

Students, faculty and employees of the University of Osteopathic Medicine and Health Sciences, Des Moines, Iowa, were honored for their outstanding participation and recruiting efforts for the Blood Center of Central Iowa's volunteer blood donor program during the past year.

The awards were presented during the Center's Sixth Annual Awards Luncheon in December. Jean Grossman, coordinator of community medicine at the University, received the awards on bebehalf of those who participated.

Blood Center Director Charles Osier awarded the Certificate of Appreciation to the University in recognition of outstanding participation to the Central Iowa life saving blood donor program and the Award of Excellence for exhibiting over-all excellence in recruitment, organization, publicity and collections during 1982.

UOMHS is sponsoring a CME conference entitled "Basic Allergy Update for the Practitioner," June 11, 1983.

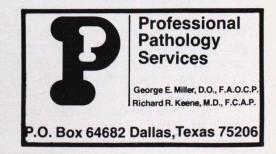

This program has been developed for physicians and nurses who need basic allergy information and modern aspects of treatment for patient management in the office. The curriculum includes basic immunology, systematic disease relative to allergy and hypertension, inhalant allergy, lab tests and PRIST and RAST in practice.

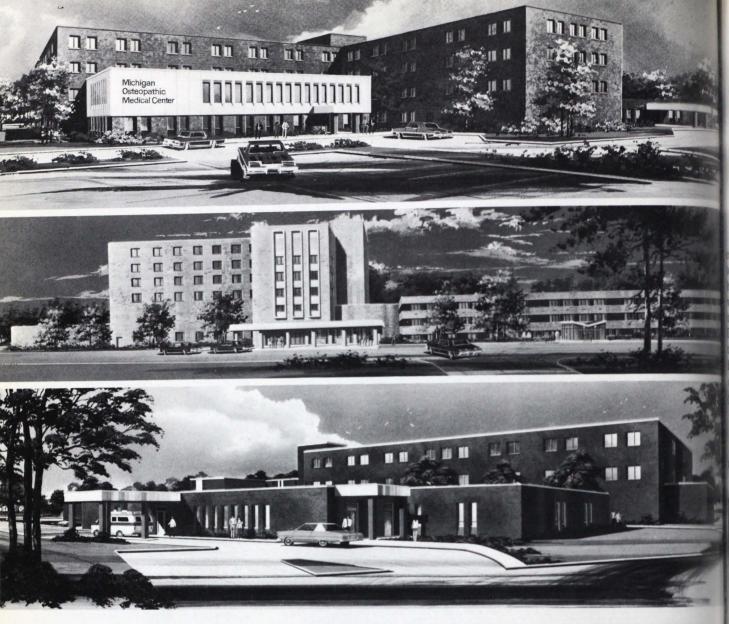

For more information, physicians should contact the Department of Surgery, UOMHS, 3200 Grand Ave., Des Moines, Iowa, 50312; 515—271-1429. Nurses should contact: Beverly Stockton, R.N., Ph.D., at the same address; 515—271-1434.

None of these HBE-built hospitals is quite like yours.

No two hospitals are the same... even if they appear similar. That's because each hospital has its own approach to health care.

It's important that the designer and builder of a hospital recognize and understand the difference. The proper environment must be achieved to help each system work efficiently and effectively.

HBE has the capability to do just that. It has already completed 35 osteopathic hospital projects. Each project personalized to the specific needs of each hospital.

In addition HBE has saved some hospitals as much as 50% of what they thought they'd have to spend to realize their goals. That's because the HBE system provides full service—from initial planning, through financial assistance and agency approvals, right through construction.

As this goes to print we see in a flyer from TCOM that Bill Clark, who left a thriving practice in Whitehouse to join the TCOM faculty (and be close to his B.W. who is a student doctor there) a year or so ago, is an instructor in "Hands-on Training", a refresher course on osteopathic technique. Bill is listed as associate professor of general and family practice at the college. Hey! Hey!

Letters

Dear Dr. Jenkins:

Thank you so much for the Association's beautiful floral tribute to Bob.

He was a precious husband and my best friend, and I shall always miss him so much; but it is a blessed assurance to know he is with our Lord, and I shall see him again some day. Until then, warm and loving memories comfort me, and the Lord sustains.

My thanks again to the Texas Osteopathic Medical Association for their thoughtfulness.

Gratefully, Bert McCullough (Mrs. Robert McCullough, Sr.)

Greetings from Mexico!

Dear TOMA Friends:

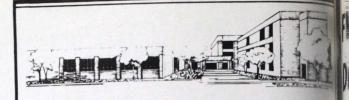

Greetings from Mexico! I thought you might be wondering what happened to Lily and I and why we won't be seeing you all at the convention in Fort Worth.

You remember that we had planned to retire in Mexico and have built a house in Jurica, Queretaro on a beautiful golf course. We moved last July and while driving back to Corpus Christi I demolished the motor home and suffered a fractured pelvis and other injuries. Luckily the accident happened in Texas so I was hospitalized in Corpus and recuperated there for six weeks then we returned to Mexico.

Queretaro is located on the highway 120 miles northwest of Mexico City at about 6000 feet elevation. The climate is perfect with warm days and cool nights so we need only a fireplace for heat in the winter.

The flowers and trees are beautiful and I am enjoying the leisure life with a round of golf three or four times a week. (The injury slowed my swing so my game is improving.)

We have no telephone and the mail must come by

Doctors Hospital

Southeast Texas' newest health care center

We're now marking our second year in an all-new, 106-bed facility.

And our commitment of providing quality care continues — the same care patients have come to expect at Doctors Hospital since its founding in Groves, Texas, over 25 years ago.

Our all-new equipment — the most technologically advanced and sophisticated available — supports this commitment, especially for the practicing physician who expects up-to-date diagnostic facilities . . . including a non-invasive cardiovascular department, complete with treadmill, which complements our nuclear medicine facilities, including ultrasonography services.

In our growth process, we've added totally computerized diagnostic equipment for pulmonary function testing, 24-hour physician-covered emergency services, birthing facilities and an eight-bed unit designed for coronary-intensive care patients who require the latest monitoring devices and who, if necessary, can be isolated within the unit. The unit's telemetry capabilities also permit monitoring of any patient within our hospital.

Doctors Hospital... big enough to offer the equipment needed for medical care in the 80s... small enough to continue personalized care patients want and have expected since we first opened in 1954.

For more information about our hospital — where osteopathy and Doctors Hospital have grown together — and the advantages of being a member of our team, write to our Medical Staff Secretary.
