Listening is vital to finding answers. Especially when they're buried deep in the issues of a complex subject like health care. At Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Texas, we're working with the medical community to ensure all of these issues are heard, and real solutions are carefully considered. And while presently there are no final answers concerning health care reform, we all agree it's time to begin adjusting and adapting to the changes that will inevitably come. By working together, we can find the answers that will benefit each of us.

KEEPING TEXANS IN A HEALTHY STATE SINCE 1939.
